Re-commissioning Services

Get your building to run at peak performance once again

Your building's mechanical and control systems need regular maintenance to keep them running at optimal efficiency. IES' Re-commissioning Services can help.

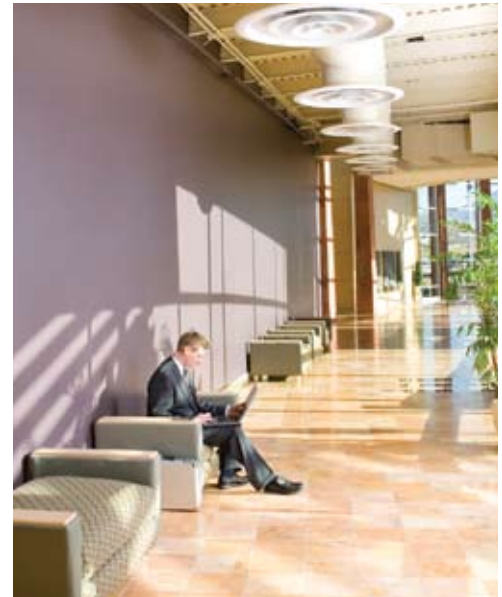

Our goal is to have your building system operating better than ever. IES first reviews your existing maintenance procedures to determine if they are adequate for your needs. We use the information gathered to expose and identify areas needing corrective action. IES' experienced technical staff then determines the best methods for resolving any problems and provides a detailed recommendation designed to help you make your building's systems run more smoothly.

IES' Re-commissioning Services:

- Increase occupant comfort and reduce complaints
- Protect your initial investment
- Reduce utility costs
- May help you meet regulatory agency requirements
- In most cases, pay for themselves by reducing energy cost

Service Excellence

IES delivers superior service to our customers. Our skilled blending of industry technology and service excellence is what creates comfortable, safe, energy-efficient building environments for our customers.

Our commitment to your success does not stop when installation is complete. We help our customers build better buildings, green buildings, "intelligent" buildings, and we help them service and maintain them at peak performance for years to come. Each service is backed by more than 350 years of in-house building expertise and experience.

Our main areas of business include:

- Building temperature controls
- Energy management services
- Full HVAC mechanical and control service
- CCTV and digital video
- Access control and security services
- Lighting control and power monitoring systems
